

I-84 Construction Projects

Be prepared for I-84 construction this summer and fall!

Improving Troutdale exit/interchange

What? ODOT is widening Marine Drive between the two frontage roads and replacing the I-84 overpass bridge to make traveling into and around exit 17 easier.

When? Expect day and night construction from January to December 2015 with traffic impacts on I-84 and the frontage roads at exit 17.*

Adding Rumble Strips Multnomah Falls to Cascade Locks

What? Add rumble strips along the right shoulder and center barrier to increase safety.

When? Expect daytime construction from August to October 2015; with limited traffic impacts.*

Replacing Barriers Cascade Locks to Hood River

What? Replace the center concrete barriers before paving 18-miles of I-84 in 2016.

When? Expect daytime construction from June to November 2015; the left lanes will be closed only where crews are working (all lanes open Friday noon through Sunday).*

Extending the Historic Columbia River Highway State Trail

What? One continuous lane closure of I-84 for 30 days near exit 55 for an extension of the State Trail between Lindsey Creek and Starvation Creek.

When? Expect one eastbound lane continuously closed for 30 days in Fall 2015.*

Paving and Bridge Construction in The Dalles

What? Repave four-miles of I-84 through The Dalles and do bridge construction at Threemile Creek. Caution! One lane will be continuously closed during construction, except on Memorial Day, Labor Day and Thanksgiving weekends.

When? Expect mostly daytime construction Monday through Saturday from February 2015 to June 2016.*

Paving Celilo to Rufus

What? Repave about 14-miles of I-84 and replace the center concrete barrier.

When? Expect day and night construction, with one lane closed during the work from May to July 2015.*

What's ODOT working on in the Gorge?

ODOT will repave and replace center barriers on I-84, as well as repair rockfall and bridges from east of Troutdale to Rufus. Here is what that means to your summertime travel plans!

Visit www.I84Construction.org to learn more about the construction projects and check travel conditions.
